A person or agent with Power of Attorney is only authorised to act in relation to financial matters. They are not authorised to make personal decisions (including medical decisions) on your behalf. In NSW there are two types of Powers of Attorney: 1. General Power of Attorney (also called an Ordinary Power of Attorney) A general (or ordinary) power of attorney is appointed for a specific period of time, e.g. during the time of an overseas holiday. If you appoint a General Power of Attorney and then lose mental capacity at a later stage the appointment will no longer be valid. 2. Enduring Power of Attorney An Enduring Power of Attorney is a legal document through which you can appoint a person to make decisions about your property or financial affairs. This can include spending and managing your money, buying or selling shares or buying, selling, leasing or mortgaging your house or other real estate. It remains in force after a person has lost mental capacity.

A. Person Responsible for Care - Primary Contact

This is the person we will contact for care issues and incidents notifications. Except in an emergency, this person will give consent for medical and dental treatment if the resident does not have the capacity to consent.

Note: If a valid Advance Care Directive has been provided it will be used first to determine treatment.

Who Can Be A Person Responsible

It is not necessarily your closest relative and the term Next of Kin has no legal standing. A Person Responsible under the NSW Guardianship Act 1987 is ranked in the following orders:

• A legally appointed Guardian (which includes Enduring Guardian or NSW Public Trustee & Guardian appointed by you – see Description of Authorities).
